

FABRICA

Weddings and Celebrations

Why Fabrica?

Fabrica is a unique space for hire. An unusual and relaxed space in a fantastic central location, Fabrica combines unexpected delights with traditional characteristics, leaving you free to create your special day exactly as you imagine.

Our building is a former Regency Church in the heart of Brighton. First built in 1817, it is now deconsecrated and offers a great venue for wedding receptions, civil partnerships and celebration parties.

Fabrica is an established arts organisation, and has been presenting great exhibitions and events since 1996. By booking your wedding at Fabrica you'll not only get to celebrate in the same space where Anish Kapoor, Brian Eno and Martin Parr have exhibited acclaimed artworks, but you'll also be helping to preserve one of the city's best-loved arts charities.

Your Canvas

Although not licenced for ceremonies, Fabrica offers a dramatic and unique interior for your party or reception that makes a statement in its own right, and can be decorated exactly to your taste.

The space is open, with walls partly clad in wood, and columns stretching from the floor to the overhead balcony. The room measures 12 x 23 metres with an impressive 10.5 metre ceiling height and excellent acoustics.

An experienced and decicated Fabrica Event Manager will be with you every step of the way, from the initial viewing through to planning, setting up, and during and after the party to ensure everything runs smoothly.

The space is flexible, fully licenced and can hold up to 130 people. You are free to decorate as you wish and organise your own catering, so you can make your day truly unique and personal.
